

The PILLARS consortium developed the Competence Framework by analysing European reference frameworks, mapping emerging impact skills, and consulting experts across education and practice. This process ensured that the new competences are aligned with European qualification systems and ready for integration into curriculum design and impact-oriented training.

Competence framework for future-ready Impact Managers

The above framework (published in 2026) is available for validation across teaching, training, professional development and research. It is openly accessible and aligned with EU priorities on transparency, comparability and mobility under Erasmus+ funding. Contact the project coordinator via the PILLARS website to join as a validation partner.
